New collaboration with Wells Fargo provides wealth of business resources

SAN DIEGO (August 8, 2016) – Wells Fargo has joined the San Diego Regional Chamber of Commerce in launching a new Small Business Resource Center to assist business owners with financial management, small business planning, workforce development, and more. The center - which is made possible through the Wells Fargo Works for Small Business<sup>SM</sup> program - is available to everyone. A Chamber membership or Wells Fargo account are not required to access the resources.

“We’re very excited to launch the new Small Business Resource Center with Wells Fargo,” said Jerry Sanders, President and CEO of the San Diego Regional Chamber. “Small business owners are the backbone of this city, and if we provide them with the resources and information they need to thrive, we can ensure a greater future for San Diego.”

The center’s online resources contain articles, webinars, and videos to assist business owners at each step of the management process, including for emerging entrepreneurs who wish to start a new venture. For individuals wishing to receive in-person guidance, the center also contains workshop dates for business professionals to work directly with industry experts.

“At Wells Fargo we believe we can only be as successful as the communities we serve,” said Ernesto Arredondo, Wells Fargo’s San Diego Region President. “With the new Small Business Resource Center, we are confident that we can help business owners get the tools they need to take their business to the next level.”
